Final Siege Unleash Nuclear Doom State on March 8th, 2024

“We have worked tirelessly to get this record right for the public to enjoy, it is now ready for the world!”

New York City— 02/15/24 — Final Siege have finished recording their upcoming album “Nuclear Doom State” which will be available on all streaming platforms March 8th, 2024. To commemorate the release the band have released the title track of the album to give a little taste of what to expect. Here’s what the members of the band have to say about the song and record.

“A song truly written in times of rising tensions and morbid sights; Nuclear Doom State is a grim reflection of humanity’s ultimate destruction.” said Ameer “The Beheader” Aljallad (Drums) one of the newest additions to the band. Rob Maldonado (Guitar) who is also one of the newest additions to Final Siege had this to say about the album and record “The purpose of creating a song like this was to depict the promise of war, perpetuated by the people who were sworn to protect us. The lyrics are very straightforward, as is our message to mankind. Alas, history repeats itself, as well as our cries of alarm.” George Garcia (Bass) who is one of the original members of the band said this “The title and themes that run throughout the album (murder, government corruption, war, manipulation through propaganda etc.) are as old as time itself. I look at this album as a modern take on all of that, with the addition of social media. Now we are bombarded with conflicting information as well as inundated with polarizing editorial content which is rooted in opinions and theories over facts. These further divides us into even smaller fragmented groups. It doesn’t matter what you believe or how you vote, the greater truth is that most are all just pawns for the few people and families that run the world. Gil Vives

(Guitar/Vocals) one of the founding members of the band had this to say. “This record was a long time coming, I originally wrote most of the music during the pandemic when we were all locked inside with nowhere to go and no hope in sight. Flash forward to the current times and it seems the world has become worse since then. The music inadvertently reflects on what we the people are all going through at the current moment even though most of the music was written 3 to 4 years ago.”

Nuclear Doom State is set to be released worldwide on March 8th, 2024 on all streaming platforms. For all the latest updates on Final Siege follow them on Instagram @finalsiege and through their website finalsiege.net
